"Shop 'Til You Drop" Hollywood Style

By Michele Miles Gardiner

"Shop 'Til You Drop" allowed new designers to get exposure, but a few have already piqued the interest of many, including some celebrities.

Designer Linh Quach, named by Dallas Morning News as one of the top five designers to watch, already has her Yen Linh handbags dangling on the arm of Trisha Simmons of "Desperate House Wives." I know why. The Yen Linh bags are stunning! They're entirely handmade in vibrant colors of 100 percent silk. Not only are the purses exquisite, but 20 percent of the proceeds goes to orphans in Vietnam - combining beauty and charity. (www.yenlinh.com) .
